To make sure Google and other search engines can efficiently find and index your Vpages, Verbolia provides multiple structured entry points:

- Dedicated sitemap: At launch, Verbolia generates a sitemap containing all Vpages. This sitemap is meant to be submitted in Google Search Console to signal all pages clearly and quickly.
- Internal linking block: Every Vpage includes an internal linking block, ensuring Googlebot and search engines bots can crawl between Vpages and discover all Vpages.
- Linking script: A client- or server-side linking script is integrated into your main website. It links existing pages to your Vpages, bridging the known and new content for crawling.

These combined methods typically result in fast and consistent indexing.
